

Welcome to October!

The weather is cooler in the morning but warm in the afternoons. I really enjoy the change of seasons. I was talking with a friend last week about what our favorite season of the year was and we both decided that we didn't have a favorite season but really liked when the seasons change. I had never thought about that before; change being good?!?! Funny isn't it? Most of the time change is very challenging for everyone, but for the seasons it just happens naturally, beautifully and is welcomed. As change comes in my life I think I just might try embracing change like nature does; with grace. Thank you for the privilege of walking side-by-side with you.

With Thanks,

Ms. Humphrey
